SOAS, the world’s leading institution for the study of Asia, Africa and the Middle East, we have more specialist staff (over 350) academically concerned with the study of these regions than any university in the world. More than 5,000 students from over 130 countries study at SOAS. For nearly 100 years, SOAS has fulfilled a unique role. Its academics, students and alumni are characterised by a passionate commitment to rigorous scholarship and to addressing real world political, social and economic questions in our regions of study. These commitments are reflected in the diverse events we host at the School. We invite you to join us at our many events listed this autumn.

Albert Chinualumogu Achebe (1930 – 2013)

Nigerian novelist, poet, professor, critic and titled Igbo chieftain, his novels focus on the traditions of Igbo society and the clash of Western and traditional African values. His style relies heavily on the Igbo oral tradition, and combines narration with representations of folk stories, proverbs, and oratory.
